Stuff the Boot Campaign Huge Success for Community Programs

The Chino Valley Professional Firefighter's Association took to the streets during a three-day period in December as part of a "Stuff the Boot" campaign to raise money for community programs sponsored by the Chino Valley Fire Foundation in Chino and Chino Hills. Off-duty fire personnel collected a little over of $16,500 in donations during the event at all entrances and exits to The Shoppes in Chino Hills, the Chino Spectrum and Chino Town Square Center in Chino.

Donations collected through the campaign will help fund the sponsorship of burn victims to attend Burn Camp, Fire and Life Safety education at local elementary schools, a holiday program for seniors, a shopping spree for children identified by the Chino Valley Unified School District, the Spark of Love Toy Drive, the Adopt a Family program that makes funds available to families that have suffered personal tragedy and are in need of immediate assistance to make it through a difficult time, and many other community programs.

The Chino Valley Fire Foundation is a non-profit organization that depends in large part to the generous donations of businesses and individuals to help fund the many programs it sponsors. Thank you to everyone who visited the donation sites to help support the various educational and assistance programs the Chino Valley Fire Foundation sponsors in the Chino Valley.
